LICENSES

SECURITY OFFICER (CLASS D LICENSE)

This license allows individuals to work as unarmed security guards. Security officers with a Class D license can perform duties such as patrolling, access control, and surveillance.

SECURITY AGENCY MANAGER (CLASS M LICENSE)

This license is for individuals who will manage or supervise security agencies. It is required for those responsible for the operations and administration of a security business.

ARMED SECURITY OFFICER (CLASS G LICENSE)

Required for individuals who carry firearms while performing security duties. Applicants must complete additional training and meet specific requirements to obtain this license, including firearms proficiency testing.

SECURITY AGENCY (CLASS B LICENSE)

Security agencies in Florida must obtain this license to provide security guard services to clients. Agencies must meet certain requirements, including having a licensed manager and providing proof of liability insurance.

PRIVATE INVESTIGATOR (CLASS C LICENSE)

Allows individuals to conduct investigations, gather evidence, and perform surveillance for private clients or organizations. Private investigators must meet certain experience and training requirements set by the state.

EQUIPMENT

UNIFORMS AND PROTECTIVE GEAR

Including uniforms, vests, hats, and footwear for security personnel to ensure they are easily identifiable and equipped for their duties.

COMMUNICATION DEVICES

Two-way radios or mobile phones enable security personnel to communicate effectively with each other and with dispatchers or supervisors.

A CENTRALIZED COMMAND CENTER EQUIPPED WITH MONITORS, COMPUTERS, AND COMMUNICATION SYSTEMS ALLOWS FOR REAL-TIME MONITORING AND COORDINATION OF SECURITY OPERATIONS.

SURVEILLANCE CAMERAS

CCTV cameras are essential for monitoring and recording activity in and around the premises. This may include both indoor and outdoor cameras.

ACCESS CONTROL SYSTEMS

Key card readers, biometric scanners, or electronic locks regulate access to buildings or specific areas within a facility.

ALARM SYSTEMS

Intrusion detection systems, including sensors, alarms, and control panels, help detect and deter unauthorized access to protected areas.

PATROL VEHICLES

For mobile patrol services, security companies may need vehicles equipped with lights, sirens, and communication systems.

FIREARMS AND NON-LETHAL WEAPONS

Armed security personnel require firearms, tasers, pepper spray, or batons for defensive purposes, depending on local regulations and client needs.

Always treat firearms as if they're loaded, keep the muzzle pointed in a safe direction, and fingers off the trigger until ready to shoot. Store firearms securely and seek proper training to ensure safe handling and use.

TRAINING AND SIMULATION EQUIPMENT

Training materials, simulations, and equipment such as dummy firearms help prepare security personnel for various scenarios and improve their skills.

FIRST AID KITS

Basic first aid supplies are essential for providing medical assistance in case of injuries or emergencies.

If initial first aid measures prove inadequate, promptly contact emergency services or transport the individual to the nearest medical facility. Continuously monitor their condition and provide comfort measures until professional medical assistance arrives.

FLASHLIGHTS

Lighting equipment is crucial for security patrols, especially during nighttime inspections or in poorly lit areas.
